I would like to delist this land for the purposes of fracking because this land is not only used by humans for recreation and education purposes but it is a home to thousands of plants and animals.

I personally have a deep connection with this area as it is a place my family, friends, and I have all had the pleasure of enjoying. It has enabled thousands to connect with nature and foster an appreciation for wildlife and wild places. Areas in which people are able to do this are quickly dwindling and thus we must treat those sacred areas that still exist with respect.

Thousands of plant and animal species are already suffering and the leading cause of this is human encroachment and habitat degradation and fragmentation. We need to acknowledge that the sixth mass extinction is currently happening and we must do everything possible to slow the decline plants and animal species are suffering today. This starts here. This starts with delisting this land in the Wayne National Forest from being sold.

Thank you,

Macie Smith
